DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group 1 in the reply filed on 6-6-05 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-3 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1, line 8, "said support elements" lack antecedent basis.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fenn (6,719,297)

The applied reference has a common inventor (at least) with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Fenn discloses a piston ring having a lateral surface 37 and support segments 39, 41 having retaining surfaces 43, 45 to engage the top and bottom of the piston. The ring defines a joint 47 between ends. A first tongue 49 is arranged on one end and engages an opening 51 in the other end. The first tongue includes retaining segments 53, 55 that are extensions of the support segments. The opening includes carrier segments 61, 63 that are extensions of the support segments. The piston ring has a sealing surface(s) between the ends where the segments 61/63 bear on the retaining segments 53/55.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2, 3, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Fenn in view of Smith (1,181,618).

The applied reference has a common at least a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the reference is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2).

Fenn does not disclose a second tongue and opening in series with the first. Smith teaches a piston ring with a joint. The joint is formed of a first tongue 8 or 6 and a second tongue 6 or 8 in series that engages a first opening 4 or 1 and a second opening 1 or 4. Smith teaches forming the joint in this manner prevents lateral displacement of the ends while allowing adjustment without leakage (see lines 79-99). The second tongue is shorter when tongue 8 is the second tongue. Therefore, it would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the joint in the manner taught by Smith to create an improved joint that prevents lateral displacement, prevents leakage, and permits adjustment.

Double Patenting

8. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

9. Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 4 and 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,719,297. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both claim a piston ring having a lateral covering surface, support segments with retaining surfaces, a joint, a tongue with retaining segments, and an opening with carrier segments forming a seal with the retaining segments.

Claims 2, 3, and 6 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 4 and 13 of U.S. Patent No. 6,719,297 in view of Smith. Fenn 6,719,297 claims the same structure as Applicant's as set forth above but fails to disclose the second tongue and opening. Smith teaches the use of first and second tongues and openings to form an improved piston ring joint that prevents lateral displacement, prevents leakage, and permits adjustment.

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Wirth '277 also discloses the claimed piston ring.
